Hear comments from commissioners.

Commissioner Heiligenstein advised assistant to the commissioners Julie Lyons is now devoting at least 80% of her time to the Y2K project. He has referred the Northridge Acres and Lake Creek projects to County Engineer Joe England and encouraged the commissioners to allow Julie the necessary time to work with the department heads in order for Williamson County to be prepared by the year 2000.

Commissioner Heiligenstein had met with the office of State Representative Mike Kruse Monday, December 7, 1998. The District Judges have requested a new Williamson County District Court and County Court-at-Law be considered at the next session of the State Legislature. The commissioner requested a fiscal impact statement for this very costly endeavor.

County Attorney Gene Taylor had visited with Judge Martinez in Laredo over the past week-end and had lunch with the District Attorney.
