AGENDA ITEM 34

Comments from commissioners.

Commissioner Heiligenstein inquired about whether there had been any consideration of indigent defense in the county budget. Judge Doerfler said that there were differing views expressed concerning the possible impact of the indigent defense legislation recently passed.

Commissioner Heiligenstein stated that he is concerned about the size of some private subdivisions.

Commissioner Boatright said that County Road 207 is a very rural road, and expressed concern about the impact of traffic from large subdivisions and construction on rural county roads.

Commissioner Boatright discussed the CAMPO meeting he attended Monday evening. He stated that the county and cities of Leander and Cedar Park captured about $4,000,000.00 for road improvements in Williamson County.

Commissioner Heiligenstein inquired about the state road project at Rice's Crossing in Precinct 4. Commissioner Limmer discussed the project and stated that it was ahead of schedule. He also expressed concern about safety and visibility issues in the area.

Judge Doerfler clarified agenda item 29, stating that county departments still need to turn in line item transfers for the next two weeks, with the same procedures as usual, except that they will not be on the agenda.

Gene Taylor notified the court that Dick Vincent, former City Council member in Georgetown, passed away on Friday. The funeral is scheduled for this afternoon at 2:00 p.m. at the Gabriels Funeral Chapel.

Commissioner Heiligenstein requested that Nancy Ledbetter add an item on the next agenda regarding the toll booth plaza issue, including drainage and sound barriers to schedule a peer review.

COMMISSIONERS' COURT ADJOURNED AT 11:05 A.M. ON TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 2001.
